

There Was An Angel

PRESS KIT

F E R D I N A N D O A R N Ò

PRESENTS

THERE WAS AN ANGEL
(Featuring Samora Pinderhughes and Precious Ebony)

RELEASED BY NOISE HEROES

The soulful ecstasy of Samora Pinderhughes's angelic voice and the electrifying urban flow of New York's Queer Ballroom Scene (Precious Ebony) are the driving force behind "There Was An Angel" of the new single composed and produced by Ferdinando Arnò. Three and a half minutes of modern pop music, breaking-down all traditional aesthetic conventions, magically interpreted by Samora Pinderhughes (musician, composer and very refined crooner, known for his collaborations with Herbie Hancock and the rapper Common in the August Greene project) and Precious Ebony, the East Coast icon of beyond the genres freestyle (in the rhymes he deals intensely with the relationship with the mother and his homosexuality). Recorded between Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Milan by an impressive session men team, "There Was An Angel" has been mixed by Tom Elmhirst (Adele, Beck, David Bowie) at Electric Lady Studios in New York and mastered by Greg Calbi at New Jersey's Sterling Sound Studios.

"THERE WAS AN ANGEL"
AVAILABLE ON ALL STREAMING PLATFORMS FROM JUNE 26th

(Multilink: <https://backl.ink/142532694>)

(founder of Quiet,please!
and Noise Heroes label)

Precious Ebony

Samora Pinderhughes

www.quietplease.net - www.facebook.com/quietpleasemusic - www.instagram.com/quietpleasemusic - www.youtube.com/user/quietpleaselabel - www.noiseheroes.com - www.facebook.com/noiseheroes - www.instagram.com/noiseheroes - www.facebook.com/ferdinando.arno - www.instagram.com/ferdinandoarno

CREDITS:

voice: Samora Pinderhughes
rap: Precious Ebony
keys: Ferdinando Arnò
cellos: Marco Decimo
guitars: Giorgio Cocilovo
bass: Paolo Costa
drums: Lele Melotti
backing vocals: Sandy Chambers

written and produced by Ferdinando Arnò

recorded in Brooklyn, New York, @The Bunker Studio recorded in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, @Mike Tarsia Recording Studio by Mike Tarsia recorded in Milan, Italy, @quiet, please! Studios assistant engineers: Luca Lo Tito, Matteo Zatti mixed by Tom Elmhirst at Electric Lady Studios, New York City, NY mastered by Greg Calbi at Sterling Sound, Edgewater, NJ

photo: Jacopo Benassi
graphics: Alessandro C. Busseni © 2020 quiet, please!
www.quietplease.net

LYRICS:

[Intro]

There was an Angel
Sent from above
There was an Angel
Looking for Love
There was an Angel
And the danger was
To fall in love, love
To fall in love, love
There is no reason
Trapped in a dream
Stunning new visions
Dropped to the floor
Where are the children
I don't want to grow

[Rap]

Lost in my very own ways
I still pray that you are okay
When will I see u again?
I have tons of stories to tell you my friend
Stories of a fallen angel
Stories of the tears and joy
Stories of what if's and how's
Her second child was born a boy
'What a joy!'
She shouts
For a second chance at love
This time is easy
But the first times always rough
She's so tough
Stands her ground
Toughest soldier never quitting out on a fight
First step accomplished
Next step on to becoming a fucking wife
This is life!
So tragic, full of havoc
But the inner peace can change the tactics
In the magic
Best past pains be all washed away
It will be ok...
Wouldn't trade you for the world
I been around
Oh ya ya ya!
'I cant find my baby!'
Uh, yes!

This life is crazy
How a mothers love for her child can be taken away?
Swapped lives with a child that now is gay
Bow our heads and let us pray
That our world will find peace today
Then we'll end up OK
Hip-hip, we cheer, hooray!
Love for an angel
Now you're confused
Used to aggression
Being abused
Men that would use
Love as a weapon
Causing your bodily harm as affection
There was an angel
Sent from above
Filled with all purity
Spreading the love
There was an angel
Telling me things
Love is so simple
Cherish these things
There was an angel
Sent from above
Looking for love
Love, love
There was an angel
Sent from above
Looking for love
Love, love

[Outro]

There was an Angel
Sent from above
There was an Angel
Looking for Love
There was an Angel
And the danger was
To fall in love, love
To fall in love, love
There is no reason
Trapped in a dream
Stunning new visions
Dropped to the floor
Where are the children
I don't want to grow